SEPTEMBER 2021

Fall Newsletter

What a great year for Table Mountain Golf Club. Even throughout the long days of summer heat and temperature of the one hundred degree mark, fires once again in the North State, we had a very good summer.

With Fall season right around the corner and with temperatures cooling off at night, the course will slowly start greening up again. The fairways will be very playable for all of our members to enjoy.

Alejandro, our course Superintendent, has plans to work on ground squirrel abatement this Fall, so if you see the bait feeders out on the course please stay clear of them. Please avoid touching or running them over. We are going to spray in and around the green surrounds and the teeing areas to rid those areas of the dense clover giving the course a cleaner look. We have discussed aeriating the fairways to help improve the growth of the grass in the fairways. This process will improve turf conditions by bringing in more oxygen to the root base of the turf and better looking fairways.

Todd Moran will start posting membership drives this fall and winter. If you know individuals who are considering joining our Club, please keep an eye out for these postings or social media for these membership specials. We all need to do our part by informing your friends and golfing partners. It could save them a few bucks to join this fall or winter.

Events like the Friends of the Golf Course tournament and the Luau social dinner are great for Table Mountain Golf Club. It brings friends and family together at the golf course sharing golf, the bar and grill and the chance to socialize with the membership at Table Mountain Golf Club. We will continue to plan social events in the future. Requests from our membership to hold these events are important to our Club, so, look for the future social events in our newsletter or postings in the club house.

I'd like to thank Jason Smock for all his hard work as the Treasurer on the Board of Directors. Jason is stepping down from this position as a Director. During the past year and a half his skill set in this position helped create a strong financial awareness for future Treasurers follow and build on. I appreciate all you time and efforts as Treasurer and you will be missed during our regular Board of Directors meetings.

Roberto Esparza, President, BOD

CART RULES

Just a reminder for everyone driving golf carts. We are getting ready to head into winter. With that being said, be prepared for days that we will not allow carts of the cart paths.

For now these are our cart rules.

1. Carts must stay on the cart paths around the tees.
2. Carts must stay on the cart paths around the greens.
3. Carts must stay on the cart paths on the par 3's.

Members carts

You may not loan your cart out to anyone. Your cart is for your use only!
